

Anthony Caruana

Freelance Journalist

Anthony Caruana works as a freelance journalist writing for some of the most respected technology publications in Australia. He covers a number of different areas ranging from consumer technology to enterprise features and case studies and news stories. Anthony's combination of writing skill and experience as a teacher and in business gives him a unique perspective on how technology can work with people.

Gestalt
Communications

Current Publications

The Age	Reviews, features and special interest pieces.
Australian Macworld	Lab tests, features, reviews and news.
PC Tech and Authority	Reviews, tutorials, features
CRN	Features and case studies
ITNews	News and analysis
ITWire	News, analysis, opinion and reviews
Government Tech Review	Features, profiles and case studies
Television	Occasional appearances on A Current Affair and Today Tonight

Contact Details

Press releases: I'm happy to receive press releases by email. Please make sure the main point of the release is in the first paragraph and in the email, not buried in an attachment. Please don't send large files as I'm often on a mobile broadband connection that has limited capacity. Large attachments choke the connection quickly. A good rule of thumb is to limit emails with attachments to less than 300K.

Email:
anthony@gestaltcommunications.com

Phone: 0431 474 370

Twitter: @Anthony_Caruana

Snail mail and Deliveries:

Anthony Caruana
Gestalt Communications
9 Caramut Court
Warranwood, 3134

Events and Briefings

I'm happy to attend briefings and events with sufficient notice. I am based in Melbourne but am willing to travel providing the event or briefing is of sufficient value to my readers and editors.